Storage and Maintenance

Several warehouse locations in America insure prompt delivery.

Offering the best in print products, IDS® is known for attention to detail and consistency. Contracting specialty printing plants insures that each print job will be produced on equipment best suited for the job rather than the risk of exceeding the capability of a single vendor.

Whether you need a basic form made to your specifications or a photo grade print job with special binding needs, IDS® can assure the results. Product offerings also include MICR printing, Barcode Imprinters, print media, toner, ribbon, well just about any print need.

Our trained staff will maintain your inventory in our facilities. We will receive your items from the vendor and notify you on its arrival. Because we have ample space available in various warehouses located in the US shipping costs can be contained. Inventory reports can provide you with the count overall as well as a break-down by location.

Your company no longer has to take on the expense and liability of sustaining personnel to handle a part of your business that does not represent a profit center.

Re-packaging or kit-building services are available so you can receive all products in the unit of measure you seek. Contact your IDS® representative for details on why off-loading your warehouse needs can be a benefit.
